

PIONEERS OF 1849

From Files of Daughters of Utah Pioneers, Journal History, etc.

The immigrant Saints of 1849 came in five companies of about 500 wagons and 1400 people led by Orson Spencer (Sp), Allen Taylor (T), Silas Richards (R), George A. Smith (S), and Ezra T. Benson (B). Many others came in independent companies, as well as some members of the Mormon Battalion (MB).

charge of the British Mission since January, 1847. The companies following Captain Spencer's not only suffered much from cholera on the Missouri, but nearly perished in a fearful snow storm at South Pass early in October. Seventy of their cattle were frozen, but no human lives were lost. These companies were commanded by George A. Smith, in general charge of the Church emigration that season. Dan Jones, Allen Taylor, Silas Richards and Ezra T. Benson were captains. Captain Dan Jones' company lost sixty lives from cholera that season, between St. Louis and Kanessville. It was such fatalities as this that caused the Mormon leaders to contemplate about this time a change in a route of their European emigration.

In the organized groups were more than fourteen hundred Saints who came in five hundred wagons. Several independent companies crossed the plains in '49, making a total of over two thousand Latter-day Saints. Historians claim that the California-bound emigrants that passed through Utah numbered approximately 30,000.

ON THE PLAINS IN '49

Camp of Israel, Indian Territory, Sandy Bluffs, 280 miles from Winter Quarters, August 12, 1849.

Dear Brother O. Pratt—This morning, while the rain is wetting our canvas, and bids fair for a stormy day, I thought I would send you a hasty sketch of our journey thus far on our way to the Salt Lake, and offer a few suggestions to the Saints in England and other places, that will be of advantage to them in their emigration.

First, then, I left home and went into camp on the 23rd day of June last * * * We are now encamped on Skunk Creek, near the Sandy Bluffs—plenty of wood, water, and rich pasture. Our cattle stand the journey thus far very well; our camps are enjoying health and peace; no deaths, losses, or serious accidents have occurred in our midst. Surely the angel of mercy and protection is round about, and goes before the camp of Israel, and may he still continue to go before us to preserve our lives, our cattle, herds, wagons, and provisions—vanquish the destroyer, guide and protect us safely to our destined haven. There were two or three stampedes among our cattle, until we adopted the plan of chaining and tying them up every night; since then we have had no stampedes, but our cattle have rested in quietness. * * *

Our statistics are as follows, as near as we can ascertain at present:

129 Wagons	4 Ponies	74 Chickens	2 Marriages
467 Souls	514 Oxen	22 Cats	2 Births
125 Men	243 Cows	26 Dogs	No Deaths
23 Horses	70 S. Cattle	21 Ducks	157 Guns
1 Mule	100 Sheep	4 Turkeys	38 Pistols
	12 Pigs	2 Doves

We are composed of Yankees, English, Welsh, Norwegians, etc., yet we are one, although of different dialects and nations. The English are doing first rate, as also the Welsh. They are well fitted out with teams and provisions; are in good spirits, are joyful, and make the camp resound with the songs of Zion in the evening after corraling.
